When we are approached with challenges, we keep the doors of possibility open. In this case, the challenge was designs that were rejected a week before construction was due to begin.

Jaime Partners had new design plans drawn up and approved by the city of San Diego in only five days. The project was completed 6 weeks after that.

As the Design & Build Representative, Jaime Partners was responsible for the project designs, permit approvals, as well as managing and coordinating the build out. We were proud to have been able to take this project from no plans at all to final project inspections in only seven weeks from start to finish, including designs and permits. Our make-it-happen spirit and excellent active coordination and collaboration with the client made it possible.
